PERSONAL STATEMENT

A highly organised, self motivated, creative genius (modest with a good sense of humour). Looking for a new challenge.

Currently I work as the Company Director of a small digital agency and have over 25 years of professional photographic experience within the television and media industry.

Since 2012 I've become a proficient web designer/developer, and lead a small team of creatives at a digital agency working as the web developer and Creative Director.

Comfortable both client facing and working along side other creative professionals, I love the buzz working as a team on exciting projects.

Outside of work, I'm a family man who who has overcome many challenges, including self-building a sustainable family home and bringing up an Autistic son. I'm also a keen football fan, mountain biker, golfer and squash player, who loves the thrill of competitive sport.

OTHER INFORMATION

Equipment

I own photographic equipment, that includes studio lighting and I have the necessary computers and software to complete creative work.

Driving

I'm comfortable driving the length and breadth of the UK (Including London) using light-commercial vehicles, as I often use them for assignments.
